ALLOWANCE

Examiner's Amendment

An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Weining Wang on June 14, 2010.

The application has been amended as follows:

Replace claim 11 with the following:

Hot rolled steel sheet excellent in chemical convertibility and free from bald spots as claimed in claim 1, wherein the dipping time is 40 sec up to a dipping time such that the HCl concentration (mass%) x dipping time (sec) is 520.

Declaration Under 37 C.F.R. 1.132

The declaration under 37 CFR 1.132 filed March 29, 2010 is sufficient to overcome the rejection of claim 1 based upon JP '541 applied under 35 U.S.C. 103.

Reasons For Allowance

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the closest prior art of JP '541 no longer teaches a hot rolled steel sheet with an overlapping composition, specifically an overlapping silicon composition, due to the amended claims filed March 29, 2010. JP '541 teaches in [0021] that it becomes impossible to control corrosion-resistant degradation even if it uses the manufacturing method of JP '541 if the Si composition exceeds 1.2%. Therefore, JP '541 teaches away from increasing the Si composition above 1.2% as recited in instant independent claim 1. In addition, the declaration under 37 CFR 1.132 filed March 29, 2010 demonstrates the criticality of the pickling conditions and the effect of bald spots on the steel sheet. The declaration demonstrates that the pickling conditions used to prepare the steel sheets of JP '541 are outside of the pickling conditions of the present invention and that the steel sheets of JP '541 contain bald spots whereas the hot rolled steel sheet prepared by the pickling of the instant invention are free from bald spots. Therefore, Applicants have demonstrated that the instant invention of claims 1 and 9 – 11 is distinct from the prior art.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
